

Solo show at Buena Park City Council Chambers

My paintings were in the Council chambers for about a month, and I also held a small workshop on the collage making.

